

Letter To The Editor

August 31, 2016

When Ferdinand De Lesseps proposed the building of the Suez canal, the Club of Rome, the “so called smartest men in the world” said that if you built the Suez canal, it would flood the Mediterainian sea 30 feet deep. Ferdinand responded, “ Every school boy knows, sea level is the same around the world.” That is why they call it sea level! So imagine my surprise when on the national news not so long ago, they announced that “Sea levels had risen 5 inches in the New York and Boston area due to climate change. If sea levels rose 5 inches there they would have risen 5 inches all around the world but they didn’t. Ask the people of Venice Italy. They would surely know! Did nobody check the narrative out or think it through before committing grave stupidity live on air? These are after all supposedly educated people.

What is actually happening is the east coast land mass is sinking while other land masses are rising. We learned this in school!

The 7 or 8 tectonic plates that form the crust and mantle of our planet are always on the move. Sometimes they get stuck and when they let loose we have an earthquake. Some of these plates are being forced up and some are being forced down. West coast up, East coast down. Hudson bay up, Gulf of Mexico down.

It is well known that sea levels have risen about 400 feet over the last 12,000 years or since the glaciers from the last ice age have melted. You can't legislate against that, no matter what political stripe you are voluntarily being duped by!

If we look right in our own back yard, just across Georgian Bay at the Bruce Peninsula. That peninsula used to be on the bottom of the ocean. That's why you can find all those fossilized sea creatures preserved in the limestone rock. The Bruce Peninsula is now about 650 feet above sea level. As a matter of fact, most of central north america was at the bottom of the ocean. A nice chunk of dry farmland now!

So these politicians think that if they can extort more of our hard earned money by rule of law and this will give them the ability to stop all this sea level rise. They can't even balance the public cheque book or think through the stupidity of their solar and wind farm failure. Lets stop these idiots and say no to their fraudulent carbon tax.

Say no at stopthecarbontax.ca

Yours truly, a carbon exhaler,

Douglas Heal